CVM GRADING GUIDE

Grading comics is an objective art. Grading factors you should consider when purchasing a comic magazine include: examination of the corners, staples, glossiness and luster of the covers, the aging and condition of the interior paper, etc. This CVM Grading Guide illustrates the many conditions that may be seen from the highest grade and top condition to the lowest collectible grade and shape. Your own comics will be in one of these conditions. This guide will also keep you aware when it comes to buying comics whether you purchase a bargain or a dud. (However, we should point out that no reader or advertiser is required to follow this or any other standard.) All prices in our CVM guide are in Near Mint grade. Happy collecting from us here at CVM.

Mint	Near Mint	Very Fine	Fine	Very Good	Good
 Spine	 Spine	 Spine	 Spine	 Spine	 Spine
Mint A perfect, pristine specimen, devoid of any trace of wear or printing or handling flaws. Covers must be fully lustrous with sharply pointed corners. No color fading. Must be well centered. Many "rack" comics are not "Mint" even when new.	Near Mint An almost perfect example with virtually no wear. No significant printing flaws. Covers must be essentially lustrous with sharp corners. Spine is as tight as new. In older comics minimal color fading is acceptable, as is slight aging of paper. Most price guides, including CVM, quote prices in this grade.	Very Fine A well preserved comic still pleasing in appearance. Small signs of wear most particularly around staples. Most luster is readily visible. Corners are no longer sharp, but not rounded. Typical of a comic read only a few times and then properly stored.	Fine A clean, presentable comic with noticeable signs of wear. Some white showing through enamel around staples and moderate rounding of corners. No tape or writing damage. Book still lies flat.	Very Good A well worn reading copy with some minor damage such as creasing, small tears or cover flaking. Some discoloration evident and wear obvious around staples. Little luster remaining and some rolling of spine may be seen when comic is laid flat on table.	Good A fully intact comic with very heavy wear. Tears, cover creases and flaking and rolled spine will all be evident. No tape repairs are present. Only scarce or valuable issues are usually collected in this state.

FUTURE PICKS

● Out with the old and in with the new, or is it in with the old and time to renew? We feature Marvel's cosmic hit of 1991 on this issue's cover to give you an idea of what we mean. The success of INFINITY GAUNTLET's storyline rode the "quest" of the Thanos wave and pushed Thanos appearances, including his first appearance in IRON MAN #55, to cosmic price heights. The "renewal" continues with the return of Adam Warlock in his own series, WARLOCK AND THE INFINITY WATCH. Sources indicate that this "Gauntlet" spin-off is already proving popular. It may be time to snap up those early Warlock/Him stories while prices are still luke-warm. We wonder if Marvel will ever bring Captain Marvel back from the dead. (Check out Silver Surfer #63). Who knows? Stranger things have happened!

● But, enough of this speculation. We leave the decisions to the publishers and concentrate on "picking" from their wares. So, what's new for '92? Well, good 'ole Neil has been chatting with a few of the publishers this month to give you an idea of what will be heading your way. The article, "CVM Spotlight On 1992," will spill over into next month's CVM and cover a plethora of potential picks. It's a sort of "pick your own hits" section, so check it out.

● Meanwhile, back to the more immediate future, and a few tasty tidbits coming your way soon. There seems to be no holding the Predator push as nasty critters are set to appear in a World War I scenario in PREDATOR: BLOODY SANDS OF TIME. With the recent success of the BATMAN/PREDATOR cross-over, it looks as though Dark Horse's (head) hunter/gatherer will continue to be popular. Sticking with x-overs, the BATMAN/DREDD story has been a great hit on both sides of the Atlantic. This company cross-over theme looks to be a winner. Any more you ask? 'Tis possible – check out the "Spotlight" article for more info.

● Moving nicely onto Valiant. The company's success in 1991 appears set to continue into 1992. Future projects are covered in this month's article, but the popularity of "the prequel" is worth a mention. Orders for MAGNUS #0 are high and its collectibility is already assured. HARBINGER #0 may well follow in the Robot Fighter's footsteps. Take one "0" and add "10," and you are right on target with MARVEL COMICS PRESENTS #100. This special anniversary full-length story features the work of hot artist Sam Kieth and pits the unholy alliance of Ghost Rider, Wolverine and Dr. Doom against "(un)holier than thou" Nightmare! Sweet dreams?

● Following on from last month's CVM article and cover feature, we add a little more information on future Lobo projects. Yep! LOBO'S BACK, the four-issue miniseries coming your way this Spring, will include multiple covers with issue #1. But, fear not, fans, according to DC's latest Coming Comics release, "Issue #1 of LOBO'S BACK will be printed with three separate covers. But, the main-man is fed up with forcing fans and retailers to invest in multiple copies to own a whole set. So, issue #1 of LOBO'S BACK will contain three covers at the same time. Got that? One comic, three different covers. In the same comic. In the same order. No variant editions. All gag, no gimmick." (Maybe they have been reading C.V.Mail.)

● A quick list of other possible picks heading your way: VIGIL: FALL FROM GRACE, a modern day vampire story from Innovation; RUST, the junkyard hero originally published by Now Comics and currently with Adventure Comics; and DINOSAURS ATTACK, the miniseries from Eclipse.

● So, why no mention of CYBERRAD, YOUNGBLOOD, CAGE and other potential hits you ask? Well, these, and other possible future picks, permeate this issue of CVM's publisher premieres in part 1 of "Spotlight 1992" article. (Final plug!)

● Tune in next month for more appetizers from the Comics Values Menu! Until then, bon appetit.

DC

When are all the folks at DC going to give LOBO his own monthly comic? Get with it, people! SANDMAN is still the best monthly here. BATMAN VS. PREDATOR just blew off the shelves. What can I say about ROBIN? I ordered to sell out and I am glad that I did! Cut the gimmicks, guys, you're killin' us out here. BATMAN/DREDD was gorgeous and no one seemed to mind the $5.95 cover. Quality sells!

MARVEL

The king is dead! Long live the king! That's right, move over Todd McFarlane, Jim Lee is here. If you haven't already unloaded those high priced McFarlane back issues...it's too late now! Lots of demand here for the upcoming WARLOCK series. Pick up those FANTASTIC FOUR #66 & 67's while the price is still affordable.

INDEPENDENTS

I keep tryin' to tell you people, Valiant is the word. First MAGNUS, then SOLAR, and now, X-O MANOWAR. These titles are great! Dark Horse is still numero uno, however, with all their licensed titles selling extremely well.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

A word on the economy: in an informal survey taken at conventions and other stores, new comic sales are off 10-25% over last year. Holiday sales, normally high enough to carry most retailers through the rough Jan-Mar months, are only slightly above normal. On top of this, Marvel just increased their base prices to $1.25. Give us a break, fellas! Readers are dropping titles to make up for the increase. Meanwhile, look for a shake-out as the retailers running on a shoestring get sucked under. Also, watch out for another price increase from Marvel in the near future. 'Nuff said.

BATMAN VS. PREDATOR kicked butt. BATMAN VS. DRACULA and VS. JUDGE DREDD were also good. Impact titles still have a following. Looks like JUSTICE LEAGUE is shaping up. Please let ARMAGEDDON die off, please?!?

MARVEL

Upcoming events for Marvel: CAGE mini-series (sleeper?), CABLE mini (sell out), Operation Galactic Storm may need a doctor – 19 parts, ouch! At least we won't have four covers for each part...or will we?! PUNISHER WAR ZONE – he's back in his own book yet once again for the first time for the third time. Sinister Six pop up yet again in SPIDER-MAN. MARVEL COMICS PRESENTS #100 looks promising.

INDEPENDENT

Valiant rules with MAGNUS, RAI and SOLAR. Dark Horse rules with PREDATOR, ALIENS, TERMINATOR. Wow, two rulers. At this rate, Marvel beware. These guys give quality over quantity. YOUNGBLOOD...how original. Let's take a look. Roll call: Shatterstar with a bow, Deadpool wannabe, Domino with longshot spikes, a black Cable, (PUNISHER flashback?), possible Bishop with lots of facial hair, and Warpath as a gray path.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

DC has good story and good art inside. Cover art is needed always. For Marvel, old villains and ideas need to end or change for the better. I could probably write better AMAZING SPIDER-MAN stories because I've read them all.

Impact Comics have gone right to the toilet after all of their third issues. WARLORD was a bust. AQUAMAN sold alright, but the reaction to the book has been really good; and I pay more attention to the reaction. BATMAN VS. PREDATOR, LOBO and BATMAN VS. JUDGE DREDD sold well with a lot of good response to them.

MARVEL

WOLVERINE is selling well. One book that's seen a big drop off is X-FORCE. A lot of speculators were buying it, but there weren't that many fans. SPIDER-MAN had a big drop off after McFarlane left. WONDER MAN is a bust. SLEEPWALKER has been slowing down since #6. The price increase might have something to do with it.

INDEPENDENTS

STAR WARS: DARK EMPIRE is doing well. Outside of Dark Horse, we don't sell many independents. The Valiant Comics do rather well for us, as does Now's GREEN HORNET.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

The industry has become very much like the baseball market; the companies are hyping their book as collector's items like multiple covers. Once the hype dies down, there's not much left. In the old days, comics were bought for character and story.

DC

DC has all but lost out of the top ten except for BATMAN/DREDD. Sales have also been good for BATMAN/PREDATOR and BATMAN: RED RAIN Hardback. Demand for SANDMAN is up and LEGENDS OF THE DARK KNIGHT is doing consistently well, but is not doing so well that it ranks in the top ten. Interest in STAR TREK titles and support items are up considerably with many waiting for DEBT OF HONOR to be released.

MARVEL

There is no competition in sight for Marvel's X-titles and that is why they take the top four sales positions. Demand for X-title back issues is still very high. Customers have been scrambling for second printings of X-FORCE #1, X-FACTOR #71, and NEW MUTANTS #87. WOLVERINE and GHOST RIDER have also been doing well.

INDEPENDENT

Dark Horse and Valiant are leading the pack of independent companies. Sales for ALIENS and PREDATOR from Dark Horse are outdoing many of the mainstream titles. SOLAR, MAGNUS, and HARBINGER, are doing very well for Valiant.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

Demand by SANDMAN collectors for SANDMAN #19 is high with selling prices as high as $45.00. Customers are impatiently waiting for DC and X-MEN trading cards to be shipped. It's hard to tell if comic companies postponing shipping dates are hurting sales or helping by causing anticipation for the product.

SANDMAN continues to bring new people into the comics reading field. Interest in the way DC is tying all of the SUPERMAN titles together is fading. People are leaving all of those titles behind. Demand still outstrips supply of DOOM PATROL #19-30. Interest in PRINCE: ALTER EGO was much greater than expected. Interest in SWAMP THING is sliding a bit. ROBIN II has moved well. As far as options go, DC gave the customer every possible one. The allocations on the ROBIN DELUXE LIMITED SET have caused some hard customer feelings. If only DC would have allocated and shipped these before the first issue of ROBIN II arrived....

MARVEL

GHOST RIDER has slowed down, but interest is still there. INFINITY GAUNTLET moves well. MARVEL COMICS PRESENTS have caught the people's attention because of the Weapon-X storyline by Windsor-Smith and new storyline by Sam Kieth. NEW MUTANTS are movers. X-MEN, UNCANNY X-MEN, X-FORCE AND X-FACTOR keep selling. Supply on PUNISHER is starting to outweigh the current demand.

INDEPENDENTS

CEREBUS has hit ground running fast. After two slow (but great) storylines, Mr. Sim is moving forward again. MAGNUS: ROBOT FIGHTER and HARBINGER have people looking. Early VAMPIRE LESTAT is still moving and TANK GIRL has developed a strong and loyal following.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

Everyone is crazy about PSYCHO. RAGMAN is also selling well. Lobo appearances still count for a little, although they do not blister off the shelves like they did a year ago. SANDMAN – need we say more? STAR TREK titles have gotten a shot in the arm from the movie. Big surprise: expensive Batman/Elseworld's titles sell really well (BATMAN/DRACULA, BATMAN/DREDD and BATMAN/PREDATOR). Big disappointment: ROBIN II (We're not allowed to say "Robin" or "hologram" around Bob).

MARVEL

WOLVERINE #50 sold great, as did PUNISHER's "Final Days" storyline. X-MEN and X-FORCE sales have steadied. No huge decrease in SPIDER-MAN sales with the departure of McFarlane, but maybe it's too early to tell. GHOST RIDER has started to slow and all movie adaptations are lousy looking and lousy sellers. Big surprise: ADVENTURES OF CAPTAIN AMERICA. Big disappointment: the price increase. We've had several customers who dropped a Marvel title and started a $1.00 DC title just because they are cheaper.

INDEPENDENT COLOR

All Valiant titles are doing well, due to their innovative and fresh superheroes. There seems to be a gradual slowdown of the Dark Horse licensed titles; ALIENS III will probably change that. Big surprises: PARANOIA, X-O MANOWAR, Don Rosa's return to American Disney's. Big disappointment: I COME IN PEACE

INDEPENDENT B & W

BILLI 99 and NIGHT OF THE LIVING DEAD both posted respectable numbers. VAMPIRELLA didn't do as well as we were expecting. Big Surprise: EVIL ERNIE. Big disappointment: people still buy comics produced by Barry Blair Studios.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS

Metro Comics had a great first quarter! One thing which all of us noticed is that the quality items, while more expensive, are still selling well – BATMAN/PREDATOR (prestige) and ADVENTURES OF CAPTAIN AMERICA. The gimmicks, in particular the multiple cover ploy, has left a lot of comics rotting in dealers' back rooms. With the continued downturn in the economy, customers are being choosier with how they spend their hard-earned kopeks, and seem to have chosen quality over hype. Bravo!

DC

For all companies, buyers have been using one byword: familiarity. Money seems tight, and while comic dollar totals are up over last year, it's the tried, true and familiar that is selling. NEW TITANS sales are up; DEATHSTROKE is down. Little interest is being shown in SKULL AND BONES, while strange stuff such as CLASH and MY NAME IS CHAOS have little chance of reaching a wide readership. ROBIN II did sell, but nowhere near X-MEN figures. The reader's message to everyone: "I'm tired of this."

MARVEL

Mutants and spiders are still Marvel's bread and butter, no matter what the story is or how out of character the people in the books act. One wonders why they bother to try experiments like CAPTAIN CONFEDERACY, EVERYMAN and most of the other Epic books of the past year. Outside of the Clive Barker books, the Epic books have a track record worse than most independent publishers. Again, people are buying what they know well.

INDEPENDENT COLOR

The familiar sells here as well. Dark Horse's ALIENS: GENOCIDE is our tenth best-selling book in the last two months with the other DH movie books not far behind. Valiant's titles are losing sales as the gimmicks run out. Innovation's vampires continue to grow, but the rest of their line is months behind losing many readers as a result. Adventure's new PARANOIA, a familiar trade name in game stores, did very well. Excitement is building towards the Lovecraft titles. Solid well-known properties seem to be the future for independents.

INDEPENDENT B & W

ELFQUEST and A DISTANT SOIL are the biggest black and whites, both with a loyal following. However, Byme and Miller in DARK HORSE PRESENTS haven't added much to the book's sales.

They went out with a bang and plan to keep riding the successful wave of the Dynamic Duo. BATMAN/PREDATOR, BATMAN/JUDGE DREDD, BATMAN: MASTER OF THE FUTURE and BATMAN ARCHIVES all flew (or flapped) out of here with Robin right on his tail! THE NEW TITANS and DEATHSTROKE are also gaining speed.

MARVEL

1992 will belong to Marvel! With the eagerly awaited release of PUNISHER: WAR ZONE, Operation: Galactic Storm, and Spider-Man's 30th anniversary all year long, there's no sign of this slowing. Individually, AMAZING SPIDER-MAN, SPIDER-MAN, X-FORCE, X-MEN and UNCANNY X-MEN are all battling for supremacy with GHOST RIDER and DARKHAWK a close second.

INDEPENDENTS

Dark Horse is playing for keeps! PREDATOR, TERMINATOR and ALIENS are all more popular. STAR WARS and THE THING are also well done and exciting.

Now is also doing well with the Green Hornet titles and TWILIGHT ZONE.

Dear Staff,

I am writing in response to "The Care and Feeding of Your Comic Collection" by Jay Runningdeer in the back of CVM #66. Finally. Somebody has gone and explained just what the difference is between bags. Thank goodness. But, there are a few discrepancies.

First off, it is stated that ultraviolet causes breakdown and yellowing of plastics (which is true) and later, we are told that comics should be kept "away from all light (even fluorescent)." Well, let me inform you that fluorescent lights make plenty of UV. That's why they're used in tanning salons. Your standard incandescent light bulbs make hardly any UV, but they make tons of heat, as we all know.

Second, a collector points out that polypropylene bags will form a greasy outside by reacting with the inks. Wouldn't that gunk be on the inside, as well? And, who knows what effects it has on the comic inside?

The article seems to praise polyethylene as the best. I agree. It would be Mylars except for the vapor condensation and the UV caused yellowing (and cost). Mylars are frequently employed by comic shops to display their valuable comics out in the open where they are exposed to the elements: dusty drafts, water vapor and fatal UV. Your comics are reasonably safe from the sun's UV as long as the window/door is closed. Most types of glass stop UV which is why you don't get suntanned in your car.

So, I recommend for stores that have that big display of comics, that they put them behind glass or use glass-front racks for limited protection and easy access.

Finally, don't bags contain acid? And, if bags are good for temporary storage, wouldn't putting a new bag with its fresh supply of acid and other reactants be harmful? Can I wash my bags, you know, clean them out?

Thank you for your attention. I hope I've provided some insight and hope you can answer my questions.

Adam Elliot, Downers Grove, IL

Dear Adam,

We appreciate your input concerning Jay's article. Hopefully, most of your questions will be answered in this month's article. In regards to washing the bags, it gives us food for thought. We hope to cover this aspect of the preservation in the future.

N.H.

Dear CVM,

First of all, I'd like to thank you for printing my letter in #65. Your magazine is the best of its kind. I have a few complaints, though. In your CVM Grading Guide, you are very helpful when it comes to grading comics. But, I, and other readers, want to know the true value of a lower-condition comic compared to near mint. For instance, label "Very Fine (80% guide)" and "Fine (50% guide)," and so forth.

My final plea is to have all the Hot/Cold lists EVERY MONTH!! How about it?

Kevin Webster, Jacksonville, FL

Dear Kevin,

We have had several comments referring to the inadequacies of our grading guide page. We totally agree with these comments, and would also add that any type of visual grading guide does not clearly represent the faults relating to the down grading of comic books. So, at present, we are reviewing our format and will be covering the grading issue in some depth in the next installment of our "Care and Feeding..." article. Stay tuned next month.

Finally, you want ALL the Hot/Cold lists every month?! Where would your lovely letters go?

Steve (Grade A) Jeffries

Dear Steve,

In CVM #66, you asked readers to send you a Top 10/Bottom 5 list for artists, writers, heroes and villains. While I think your idea has merit, it also has a couple of disturbing points as well.

Top 10/Bottom 5 lists of fictitious characters (heroes/villains and their comics) is fine, but on the artists and writers, is wrong. The writers and artists work hard and most are very dedicated to their work. They are people with feelings, not non-existent comic book characters. If you publish a list of the "bottom people," you could ruin someone's career or life.

I strongly recommend that you delete your Bottom 5 portion of your artist/writer list!! We all know the Top 10 will be your Lees, Liefields, and McFarlanes, so let's give the people who are not in the spotlight a chance to get there. Let's not forget that your Top 10 people now, had to start at the bottom as well.

Dan Heffner, Marietta, PA

Dear Dan,

You raise a very interesting point that deserves some clarification of the C.V.Movers lists. Readers determine these lists and obviously have their "hot and cold" choices. We would take issue with your "ruining careers" comment to the extent of saying that we feel the Bottom 5 list reflects a lack of popularity at this time. Just like comic books, artists and writers fall in and out of favor. Therefore, today's "cold" artist/writer could well be tomorrow's "hot" item.

However, you still have a good point that perhaps needs addressing further. So, we throw your opinion out to the CVM readership for discussion. We shall have to reader response. How about it guys?

S.J.

Dear Steve,

I've bought most of the monthly or bi-monthly price guides on the market today and have found that yours is the most up-to-date on the ever-volatile world of comics, i.e. McFarlane's drop in price, Silver Surfer #50 and Iron Fist #14.

One trend that annoys me is price increases. Marvel's increase of 25¢ is not that big a deal to me (although I know others that feel otherwise), but my point is that these $3.95, $4.95 and $5.95 comics are way overpriced! It's hard, with times as they are, to spend that much on one comic. Although the art is usually better (due in part to the paper stock), I'd much rather have a handful of $1.00 comics instead.

Guys, come on, get with it! Drop those "dead" titles and add more writer and artist abbreviations. Other than that, you are THE comic book authority!

Josh Kirshner, Chestnut Ridge, NY

Dear Josh,

Thanks for the compliments. Yours isn't the only letter we've had referring to hard times and high prices. All we can say is this: collectors will pay for what they think is a good deal. We wait and see if Marvel's price increase will affect sales.

As for the "dead" titles, we have temporarily dropped a few non-moving titles to make room for more important listings. We're also adding artist/writer abbreviations as and when required.

(priceless) S.J.

Hi Steve!

About four or five issues ago, I wrote to tell you how much I appreciate a guide such as yours...largely out of greed! You see, I own a LOT of comics myself and it makes me feel great to see those price increases month after month. Which brings me to the reason I'm writing...

Your guide seems to reflect rapid increases in books, sometimes as high as 25% in a single month. This, of course, makes collectors feel X-tatic, but then, as early as two months later, along come those "kiss of death" minus signs next to those same books.

Please explain to your subscribers, both professional and non-pro collectors alike, that this doesn't necessarily mean the books are on their way down or OUT (even worse)! Many dealers feel this way and won't touch the "minus" books with a ten-foot pole! Are the values of these books actually decreasing or is there just a lull in the public's buying habits due to the slow economy?

Anyway, I still think yours is the best game in town – at least your prices MOVE!

Joe Thunderhorse, Dunnellon, FL

Dear Greedy One,

Hi Joe. Readers should be aware that this is a very volatile market. Prices rise and prices fall just like the Stock Market. You will find that in some cases, due to the current popularity of a character, artist, etc., the price of a book may shoot up overnight. In many cases, this is an "artificial" price and over the next few months, the price will appear to drop until it reaches a stable and acceptable market level.

So, a minus sign doesn't necessarily indicate a "dead" book. We would be interested in hearing from some of you dealers out there.

S.J.

Notes on using Comics Values Monthly

This publication is designed to guide comics collectors in the most current comics values. It is a tool, along with other fine publications, to assist collectors to enjoy the hobby.

The comics values listed are what a dealer will generally ask. Depending on a dealer's needs and condition of the comics, dealers will pay around 50% of these values for major hot titles, and 30% or less for minor comics. These guidelines will vary from dealer to dealer and as to location

All characters represented in this issue are copyright by the publishers listed on page 8.

Condition of Comics

MINT – A perfect comic in every way.
NEAR MINT – A nearly perfect comic. Cover shows barely perceptible signs of wear. Tight spine with minor printing defects acceptable.
VERY FINE – Beginning signs of wear. Slight creases at staples, some loss of gloss but attractive.
FINE – A worn cover but clean. Stress lines around staples and more rounded corners.
VERY GOOD – A well read book. Minor markings, discoloration. Heavier stress lines around staples with minor tears or corner creases and spine rolling.
GOOD – A very worn comic with creases, minor tears, cover flaking apparent. No tape.

THE CARE AND FEEDING OF YOUR COMIC COLLECTION

Part Two: Board with Your Comics? or Shall I Bag That For You?

By Jay Runningdeer & Neil A. Hansen

In the first installment of The Care and Feeding of Your Comic Collection, CVM covered the first steps of collecting comic books, with information on preserving your comics in comic bags of which there are three types: mylar, polypropylene and polyethylene. Part 2 covers more about bags, and where your comics should be stored to guarantee maximum protection.

Most comic books are printed are printed on low grade newsprint paper. Because of this, the comics have toxins latent within their fibers, which is why the comic book pages turn brown quickly. As one can imagine, this can present major problems in the long run.

Carrie Beyer, conservator at the Library of Congress, recommends the first thing to for the preservation of comics "would be to deacidify the pages."

Deacidification is the process by which the acids in the paper are removed, but part of this process involves removing the comic book's staples. However, many collectors feel that this process permanently alters a book.

Comic book collectors should be aware that the subject of deacidification is one without a singular understanding in the comics collecting community. Although it is more preventative than restorative, many believe it to be an act of restoration. Restored books are worth considerably less than books of similar condition without restoration. It is best to avoid such processes unless absolutely necessary.

Bill Cole, a registered professional engineer and president of Bill Cole Enterprises, deals in the design and production of materials for the archival storage of comics and other collectibles. He acknowledges that the process is somewhat expensive for the average collector.

"We are working on a better method of deacidification that would be cheaper for the consumer," said Cole, "in which the staples wouldn't be removed."

Concerning storage processes, Beyer commented, "(I'd) put it in an acid free folder in a Hollinger box (similar to a comic box) away from light sources and extremes of heat and humidity."

However, in most instances, 'acid free' is actually a misnomer. The Ph scale used to measure the acidity and alkaline/ basic (chemically opposite of acidic) natures of things. The scale ranges from 0-14. Zero is the most acidic, while 14 is the most alkaline. Seven is neutral, neither acidic nor alkaline. Traditionally, when something is acid free, it has a Ph of 7. But, that is not so with better quality backer boards and comic boxes. The most desirable storage products have a Ph of around 8.5 (alkaline).

According to Karen Button of University Products Inc., a supplier of archival materials, the Ph is altered by applying a 3% solution of calcium carbonate to the boards in order to provide a slight alkaline buffer. When a Ph neutral board comes into contact with acids, it absorbs them and becomes acidic itself; when acids come into contact with an alkaline board, it is neutralized and the board remains non-acidic.

"Calcium carbonate is also in products like Mylanta or Maalox," Cole said, "which nullify acids in the stomach."

Even comic book companies have gone into the business of bagging their comic books as a result of the comic collecting phenomenon, along with other premiums such as multiple covers, specially made covers and trading cards inserts. Marvel Comics pre-bagged X-Force #1 with a 100% recyclable low density polyethylene bag, and threw in a trading card to boot.

"The ink that we printed on the bag," said Alison Gill of Marvel's manufacturing division, "is solvent based with no/low lead content."

However, Gerry Ross, president of 1,000,000 Comix in Montreal, Canada felt that this pre-bagged issue may not be as beneficial for preservation as Marvel believed.

"It's only a 1.5 Mil (1.5/1000 in.) polyethylene bag," said Ross, "that over time forms a low grade sulfuric acid."

"The bags are only half the thickness of other polyethylene bags and they'll last half as long," said El Curioso of Curious George's in Alabama. Polyethylene bags usually have a thickness of 3 Mil (3/1000 in.).

Regarding polyethylene, Cole wrote in an article, Preservation and Storage of Comic Books:

For years, collectors have stored their comic books, postcards and other collectibles in polyethylene bags, PVC sheets and plastic wraps. Although such products may be useful in keeping away dirt, grease and vermin, many plastic sleeves contain plasticizers and other additives which can migrate into paper and cause premature aging.

A logical solution would be just to tear the bag open and store the X-Force #1 and card. Outside the bag, dealers like Pat Callanan of Cave Comics in Newtown, Connecticut and Al Clover at Zanadu in Seattle would then both grade it at fine.

"Without the bag or card, I'd consider it as something that had a coupon cut from it," said Clover.

Callanan said, "It's a low grade bag, it's going to fall apart. I don't like gimmicks at all. They are bad for the industry."

In the long run, Alan Giroux of All About Books & Comics in Phoenix, believes that it will be better for the comic to be out of the bag. According to Giroux, the X-Force comic will more likely last outside the bag in ten years' time.

"Inside the bag, no," Giroux said.

What is the best way to store your comics? Cole, in his article, recommends these following guidelines:

Deacidify the paper; store in mylar sleeves with acid-free boards and cartons; and keep the collection dry and dark. Periodic inspections and ph and humidity tests are recommended.

But when it comes down to it, the choice is up to you, the collector. Just like children, your collection should be fed and nurtured. Ultimately, storage of your comics will depend on how much your budget will allow. If you take care of them, you'll be proud of your collection as it receives high marks. Otherwise, they might just get an "F".

Can your comics make the grade? Tune in again next month as we cover conditions of comics for the next exciting installment of The Care and Feeding of Your Comic Collection.

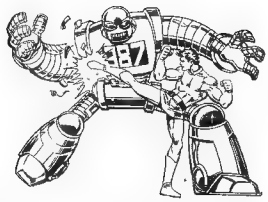
SPOTLIGHT ON 1992 PART ONE

By Neil Hansen



Magnus © Western Publishing Inc./Voyager Communications Inc.

It's after Christmas. You have more money to spend and the comic book companies want that cash. They're all putting out a great deal of comics and related products to pick up that spare dollar. CVM is going to provide a sneak peek at what will be out there in 1992.

Marvel is celebrating Spider-Man's thirtieth anniversary this year, and there are new books not only with Spidey, but a lot of plans with the rest of the line as well.

Spidey will be appearing in another graphic novel, Fear Itself, shipping in February. Produced by Punisher creators Gerry Conway, Ross Andru and Mike Esposito, Silver Sable and the Wild Pack guest star in this adventure. This will lead into the Silver Sable and the Wild Pack comic drawn by Joe Quesada (DC's Question Quarterly) and Jan Harps.

Marvel is also producing the 3-D Simpsons Illustrated Simpsons Annual with artwork by Matt Groening (Life In Hell) and his assistants which will be shipped out in February.

On the heels of his appearances in The Punisher, Luke Cage bursts out in his own title again (Power Man) called simply Cage. The first issue will contain an acetate overlay with Cage bursting out of his chains. When the acetate is lifted, readers see the background art featuring the sights and characters of Chicago. Written by Marc McLaurin, editor for Marvel's Epic line, and drawn by Dwayne Turner (Marvel's Black Panther) and Chris Ivy (Marvel's Silver Surfer), Cage hires out his services to a sleazy Chicago tabloid. It ships in early February.

Marvel will also be expanding their horror line with: Terror Inc., a horror/adventure series about an amoral supernatural assassin; and Rise of the Midnight Sons, a summer horror book featuring such Marvel mainstays as Morbius, Hannibal King and the popular Ghost Rider.

Nomad spins off from Captain America's book into his own title in March by Fabian Nicenza (New Warriors) and drawn by Claude Hawbaker (Continuity's Ms. Mystic) and Mark McKenna (DC's L.E.G.I.O.N. 91).

Infinity strikes twice at Marvel as a six issue mini-series written by Jim Starlin (Infinity Gauntlet) and drawn by Ron Lim (Silver Surfer) is planned. Infinity Wars teams Thanos and Warlock, as well as Galactus with the Silver Surfer and Dr. Strange, against a powerful mastermind on the verge of conquering both their dimensions.

"It will cross over into other books," said Marvel Comics promotion director, Steve Saffel, "but only those books that the series truly affects. We have found through our marketing that readers shy away from massive multi-hero crossovers unless it advances the story."

Marvel's Epic Line will be adding two books. One is a new version of the black & white A1 published by Atomeka Press. The anthology spotlighting British talent and characters such as Laser Eraser, is edited by Dave Elliot. "It's all new work," said Saffel, "not reprints."

Judge Dredd © 1992 Fleetway Publications

Also coming out of Epic is another anthology simply called Epic. Among featured series will be Alien Legion, Clive Barker's Hellraiser and George Martin's Wild Cards. "This book will give the opportunity for artists and writers not associated with these series to give their own interpretations," Saffel said.

Other plans include comic book versions of Beverly Hills 90120 and a Terminator 2 mini-series which takes place during the time between the Terminator movies.

With hit titles like Magnus: Robot Fighter, Solar: Man of the Atom and Harbinger, Valiant has decided to expand their universe even further. February is the debut month for Shadowman. Connected with X-O Manowar and Harbinger, Shadowman reveals the story of a jazz musician who through bizarre circumstances (as potential food for a spider woman) gains enhanced senses including night vision and super-agility. However, he also has a quicker temper causing him to become violent at a moment's notice. His need to channel his aggression towards positive use against evil causes him to become the nighttime avenger, Shadowman.

"He has a compulsion to literally fight crime," said Jon Hartz, vice president of direct sales and marketing at Voyager Communications, parent company of Valiant Comics, "a more psychotic Batman."

Steve Englehart is writing the new series with pencils by David Lapham (Magnus) and inks by Joe Rubinstein (Marvel's Infinity Gauntlet). "Dave Lapham has made a quantum leap in terms of his art," said Hartz.

Barry Windsor-Smith, artist of Marvel's Conan the Barbarian and the Weapon X/Wolverine series in Marvel Comics Presents, has been signed on as creative consultant for Valiant. "Smith's setting a house style for Valiant," Hartz said. One of Smith's assignments is to lay out the pages for the new Archer & Armstrong due in April.

"We're doing a 'buddy' book," said Hartz. "Lighthearted, it's similar to '48 Hours' with Eddie Murphy and Nick Nolte." According to Hartz, "Archer was raised by cult evangelists who are actually murderers – sort of like Jim Jones." When Archer learns of his parents' homicidal nature, they attempt to kill him.

What connects Archer to the Valiant universe is that he has the Harbinger gene. "He has special abilities," Hartz said, "He can aim at any target and hit it, no matter how difficult it may seem."

Archer goes to Tibet to train in the martial arts and become a superhero. "(His first mission was) to come back and lock up his parents," said Hartz. "But, when he came back, his parents were already locked up."

When looking for a mentor, Archer chose Armstrong whom Hartz described as "a brawly super strong invulnerable reprobate" with a past shrouded in mystery. Armstrong's only ambition in life is to "have a good time" and enjoy wine (more likely, beer), women and song (or a good barfight). Although Archer was supposed to be Archer's teacher, "in actuality, the reverse occurs." "Archer represents the conscience while Armstrong is the muscle," said Hartz.

Late April will debut Valiant Universe #0, a 16-page giveaway comic to retailers to give to their customers. "We're using the giveaways as a promotional vehicle," Hartz said. "It will spin off a storyline that will spill into all the Valiant titles."

Described by Hartz as Valiant's only time travel story, it will appear from May to June with each chapter appearing in every individual title. "The main character is an eternal warrior type to spin off into his own book," Hartz said.

An added bonus to this multi-book story are the covers by Frank Miller (DC's Batman: The Dark Knight Returns and Marvel's Daredevil). Questions concerning the Valiant universe are answered: If Harbinger, X-O and Solar developed their powers bio-genetically, why is Magnus' future technologically oriented? And who is Magnus' father?

Also in the planning stage is a crossover with Dark Horse. "It looks like Magnus/Predator," said Hartz.

Eclipse Books has major plans in 1992. Opening in February is Mad Dogs, an all-out action series written by Chuck Dixon (Marvel's Moon Knight and Eclipse's Airboy) and drawn by Vince Toppi from Argentina. It presents the adventures of rogue cops hired by the district attorney's office as an elite team to fight drugs. The series will appear in black and white.

In April, Norm Breyfogle from DC's Batman focuses on his talents for writing and drawing philosophically bent stories for Metaphysique. "It's the new age sense of Norm Breyfogle," said Eclipse editor Valerie Jones.

May debuts Eclipse's new FX line described by Jones as "movie comics without the movies. They operate on the same principle as a hit film."

The first series, to run four issues, is called Parts Unknown written by Boothe Smith (Eclipse's Black Terror) and drawn by newcomer Brad Gorby. "It's an aliens and cops story," Jones said.

Two other five issue mini-series start in May as well: Retaliator, a teenage vigilante series; and Blood On The Harvest, about vampires and the assassins out to kill them.

The summer will heat up for Eclipse with Clive Barker books abound as Life and Death will be adapted in prestige format illustrated by Stewart Stanyard, who drew the Savings & Loan Scandal cards for Eclipse. And, on tap is Tapping the Vein Book 5 in Eclipse's successful adaptations of Barker's short stories. Artists include Tim Conrad (Ironhand of Almuric) and Hector Gomez, a South American painter.

Tim Truman, from DC's Hawkworld and Eclipse's own Scout, is writing and drawing a graphic novel based on the play Tecumseh about one of the most important American Indians in history. He is also writing a sequel to his hit Spider mini-series from last year with art by Quique Alcatena (inker of Hawkworld and The Spider).

Conservation Corps © 1992 Dan Nakrosis & Paul Castiglia

Eclipse's future projects in 1992 include: a graphic novel adaptation of Dean Koontz's Trapped written by mystery novelist Ed Gorman and illustrated by Bilau; an adaptation of Marion Zimmer Bradley's Mists of Avalon written by Sarah Byam (DC's Black Canary) and illustrated by Steve Parkhouse (Fleetway's Bojeffries Saga); and Clive Barker's Dread illustrated by Dan Brereton (Black Terror and DC's Psycho).

From the other side of the Atlantic to the U.S. comes new books featuring Judge Dredd and company. First of all, Fleetway/Quality enters the horror market in March with 666: The Mark of the Beast with scary tales from Britain. Following this in April, 2000 A.D. Showcase returns with all-new painted stories featuring Nemesis the Warlock tales never seen before in the U.S.

In June, Judge Dredd's arch nemesis, Judge Death, has his biography revealed in Young Death, a three issue mini-series with covers by Brian Stelfreeze (Millenium's Doc Savage).

Finally, in September, the world of Dredd is opened up with The Lawgivers featuring Dredd and the other Judges from around the world. The art is fully painted and retails at $2.95.

Continuity Comics' biggest push in 1992 is their Cyberrad series. Following their glow-in-the-dark cover in #5 will be a four page pull out poster for #6 and a see-through plastic cover for #7. Afterwards, a new series will begin with Cyberrad Vol. 2 #1 with a 3" by 4 in. hologram on the cover.

"We're going to put out four special covers where the interiors of the books would change," said Mike Damato, a spokesperson for Continuity. "We're also thinking about a hologram issue with our Armor title."

Innovation is grinding their gears in February with their four issue adaptation of the classic movie Forbidden Planet written by Dave Campiti (Innovation's Lost In Space) and painted by Daerick Gross (Innovation's Vampire Lestat).

Dark Shadows returns to comics in March. Though it is based on the 1990's television series, George Broderick, vice president and art director of Innovation, said, "We're allowed to use the concepts from the daytime series in the '60's and '70's."

The first four issues are written by Campiti and Scott Rockwell (Hero Alliance), and the second four issues are written by Comic Buyer's Guide's Maggie Thompson. Art on the series is painted by C Silas Smith.

To coincide with New Line Cinema s theatrical release of Stephen King's Lawnmower Man, Innovation will be adapting the movie in a four issue mini-series by Diane Light with art by Shea Anton Pensa (DC's Butcher) and newcomer Stuart Immomen.

Speaking of New Line Cinema, their most popular film character is Freddie Krueger. Innovation reveals his secret origin in A Nightmare on Elm Street: The Beginning with story by Andy Mangels and art by Dan and David Day.

Prophet from Youngblood © 1992 Rob Liefield

Future plans for Innovation include a new series based on the television cult favorite Beauty and the Beast adapting the individual episodes; an adaptation of Anne Rice's The Witching Hour and the return of Innovation's super team, Hero Alliance, in the summer.

The Archie Adventure line's biggest push in 1992 will be with Zen Intergalactic Ninja. Zen will have his own toy line by Just Toys and a syndicated television series. Archie's three issue mini-series will be written by Zen co-creator, Steve Stern and drawn by Ross Andru and Mike Esposito (Marvel's Amazing Spider-Man and The Punisher). "Zen will probably spin off into his own regular series if the mini-series takes off," said Paul Castiglia, Archie Comics promotion director.

This is already being done with The Mighty Mutanimals, which spun off from Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, as they will appear in their own regular monthly. And, speaking of Turtles, the four green guys will team up with an all-new funny animal super team as The Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles Meet The Conservation Corps. The Corps, co-created by Castiglia and Dan Nakrosis, presents this group dedicated to preserving the environment: Water Buffalo, Stone Hedgehog, Firefly, Greenhorn and Skyshark.

The biggest surprise for '92 is from Malibu. They have signed on Rob Liefield from Marvel's X-Force to write and draw his own creation: Youngblood. Co-writing the series with Hank Kanalz, Liefield is exploring the concept of government hired superheroes, who are treated like celebrities and receive in "big fat paychecks." The premise of Youngblood is that the world power struggle is not over nuclear weapons, but over genetic engineering.

Youngblood, a three issue mini-series is the beginning of a "Rob Liefield universe" for Malibu. As a bonus, "each issue of Youngblood will feature two trading cards designed by Rob," said Malibu creative director Tom Mason.

Malibu is also bringing back the legendary lord of the jungle, Tarzan, back to comics in March. Written by Mark Wheatley (DC's Breathtaker) and drawn by Neil Vokes (Comico's Robotech Graphic Novel) and Marc Hempel (DC's Breathtaker), Tarzan the Warrior intends to update the character into the '90's.

"We won't be retelling the origin," said Wheatley in a Malibu press release, "and our Tarzan doesn't necessarily swing from trees."

Kicking off the first issue will be a cover by Simon Bisley (DC's Lobo). Future projects include a mini-series by Tom Yeates (DC's Swamp Thing). According to Mason, Malibu is also negotiating with Walt Simonson, Matt Wagner, Tim Sale and others to present their interpretation of the Tarzan legend.

Next issue will conclude our spotlight on 1992 with DC, Dark Horse, Disney and many more. Until then, see you in the funny papers.

WHOLE LOTTA STUFF GOIN' IN.

- OK, listen up. Previews is a catalog. It features a whole lotta stuff that you're going to want. New comics, graphic novels, trading cards, posters, t-shirts, games, and more. And you can order it all from your local comics shop by buying Previews and filling out an order form.

- But that's not all you get when you pick up Previews each month. You also get a whole lotta extra stuff– like free trading cards, hot Previews covers, and interviews with your favorite creators. You might even catch a sneak peak at a new comics title or two.

- Go to your local comics shop and ask for Previews. With a whole lotta stuff goin' in, you won't want to be left out.

PREVIEWS BUY IT. USE IT. ORDER FROM IT.

Retailers to find out more about Previews call Diamond Comic Distributors' Senior Account Rep Bill Neuhaus at (410) 298-2981.
